

MÜLLER SIGRIST

Documentation – 2026

Profile/Contact

Atmospheric, functional, self-contained and succinct in terms of urban planning.

These and a playful lightness are the qualities we aspire to with our concepts. Our architectural practice was founded in 2001 and currently employs around 25 staff. However, we still tackle new projects with an open mind, allowing us to combine experience with a sense of curiosity. This approach can be seen in numerous eye-catching buildings and settlements for public, non-profit and private developers.

We consider it our honourable duty to understand the thinking behind a commission. This means that our clients' needs are always at the centre of our work. By planning our projects sustainably and with an eye on conserving resources, we are able to create distinguished buildings and settlements. We apply the same standard of quality to developing urban planning studies and designs as to tailor-made furniture and lighting.

Project Partners

We believe that cooperation with other architects as well as technical planners and artists is the key to success in designing buildings. We therefore constantly seek dialogue with both experienced and new partners for all our buildings and projects. We select the team members specifically for the task at hand.
